Examples of Business Processes Suited for RPA

After identifying the processes suitable for automation, here are some examples of the processes that can be automated:

- Customer onboarding
- Vendor onboarding
- Material master management (creating/updating)
- Sales order creation
- Invoice processing
- Payment allocation
- Purchase order processing
- Order fulfillment
- Bank reconciliation
- Cash allocation and reporting

All these processes exhibit some or all the features of processes suitable for automation as discussed and can be automated using RPA.
